

FOREMOST® WAIVES FOOD DELIVERY EXCLUSIONS FOR MOTORCYCLE POLICIES

States have enacted restaurant seating restrictions and stay-at-home orders to help deter the spread of COVID-19. To address this emergency, Foremost is temporarily modifying its Motorcycle insurance policies to provide applicable coverage for claims arising from the delivery of food, groceries, medicines and other critical medical supplies, effective immediately. Customers will not be charged for this temporary additional coverage.

Coverage for delivery services is excluded from Foremost Motorcycle policies. This temporary modification extends existing coverages to an insured who is engaged in the delivery of essential supplies while using their personal Motorcycle.

This temporary extension of coverage will be in effect through April 30, 2020. As the date approaches, Foremost will re-evaluate market conditions and may choose to extend the effective date of this temporary modification. We will work with the various departments of insurance to implement these coverage extensions and modify implementation as requested by different states.

Current customers do not need to take any action to make this temporary modification effective on their policy. If you have any questions, please contact your marketing representative.
